

THE BLUEPRINT OF PROCESS ANALYSIS

Constructing
Essays that Explain and Analyse

PROJECT: WRITING GUIDE | PHASE: 01 | A GUIDE TO STRUCTURE, MECHANICS, AND REFINEMENT

DOCUMENTARY, NOT INSTRUCTION MANUAL

Key Insight: A “How-To” instructs. A Process Analysis explains.

THE RECIPE

Goal: Directional (How to do it).

Tone: Imperative/Commanding.

“Mix the batter. Bake the cake.”

THE DOCUMENTARY

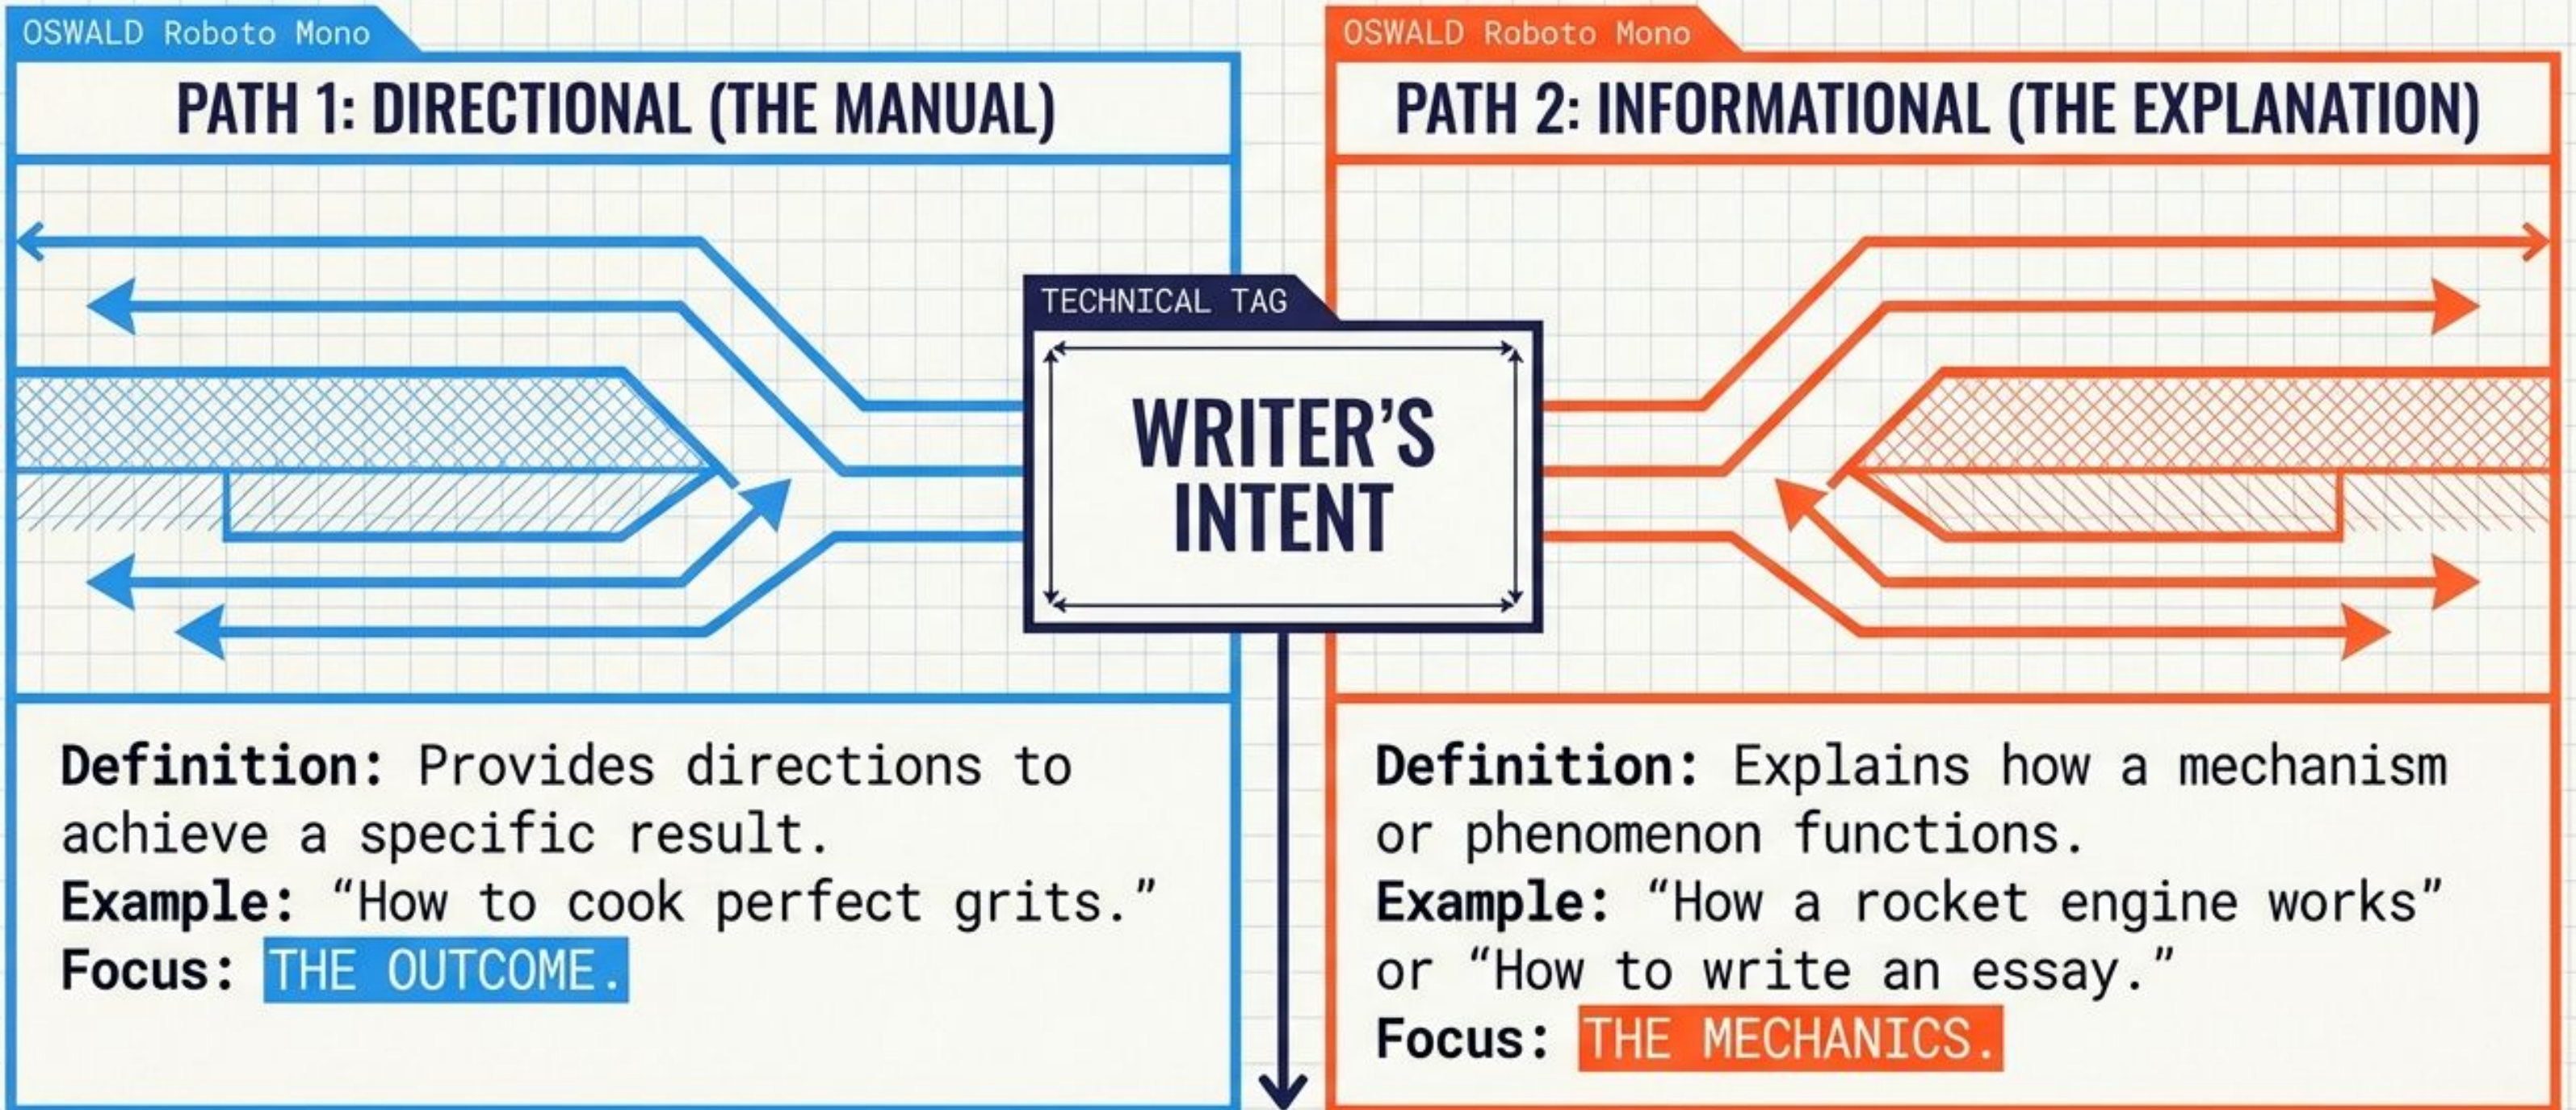

Goal: Informational (How it works).

Tone: Narrative/Descriptive.

“The batter is mixed until smooth.
The baker places it in the oven.”

CHOOSE YOUR OBJECTIVE

SELECTING A TOPIC

Rule of Thumb: Choose a topic you can explain without giving orders.

Source: Patrick Henry Community College Writing Center.

THE ANTI-INSTRUCTION RULE

The Shift: Move from 'Command' to 'Process'.

BAD (INSTRUCTIONAL): Make sure YOU extend the spoilers, or the plane might not stop.

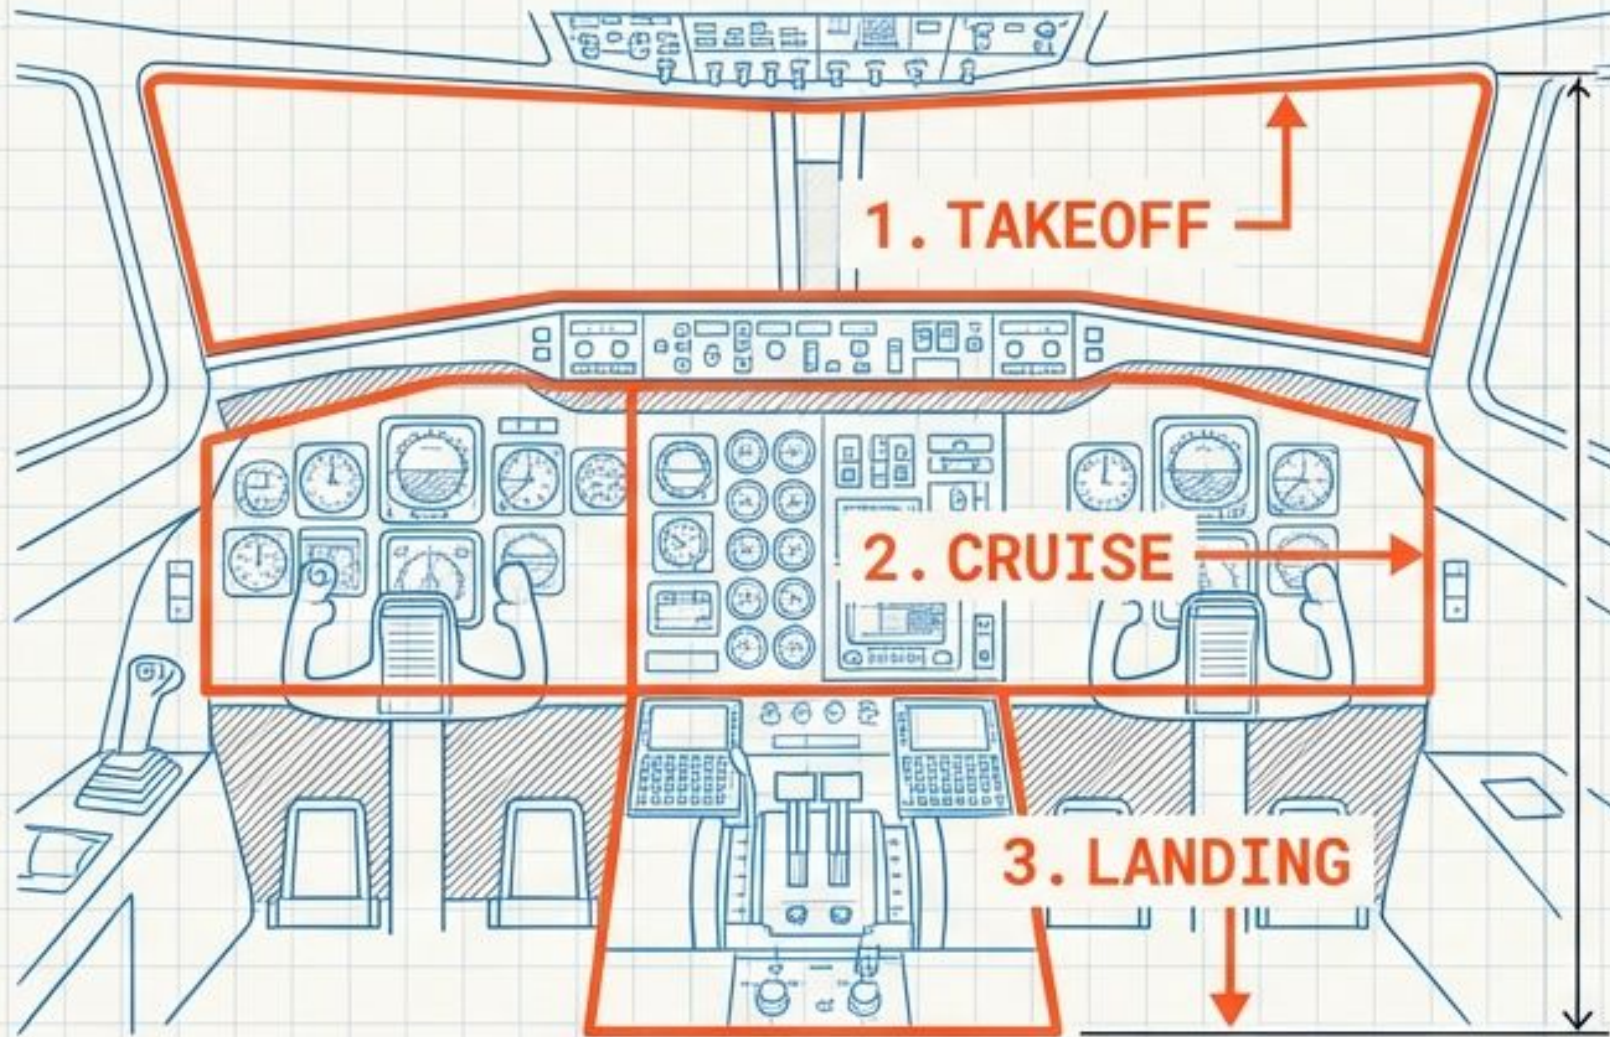

GOOD (CAUSE & EFFECT): If the pilot fails to extend the spoilers, the aeroplane may be moving too fast to stop safely.

Key Takeaway: Avoid the second-person point of view ("You"). Focus on the actor (the pilot, the mechanic) or the object (the engine, the batter).

THE THESIS STATEMENT

A roadmap that clarifies the process and its distinct parts.

- THE SUBJECT: Flying an aeroplane.
- THE MISCONCEPTION: A complex maze of buttons and switches.
- THE THESIS: "The process of flying an aeroplane is a smooth routine from TAKEOFF, through CRUISE, to LANDING."
- FUNCTION: Tells the reader exactly which logical groups will form the body of the essay.

THE SKELETON: GROUPING YOUR STEPS

The Solution:

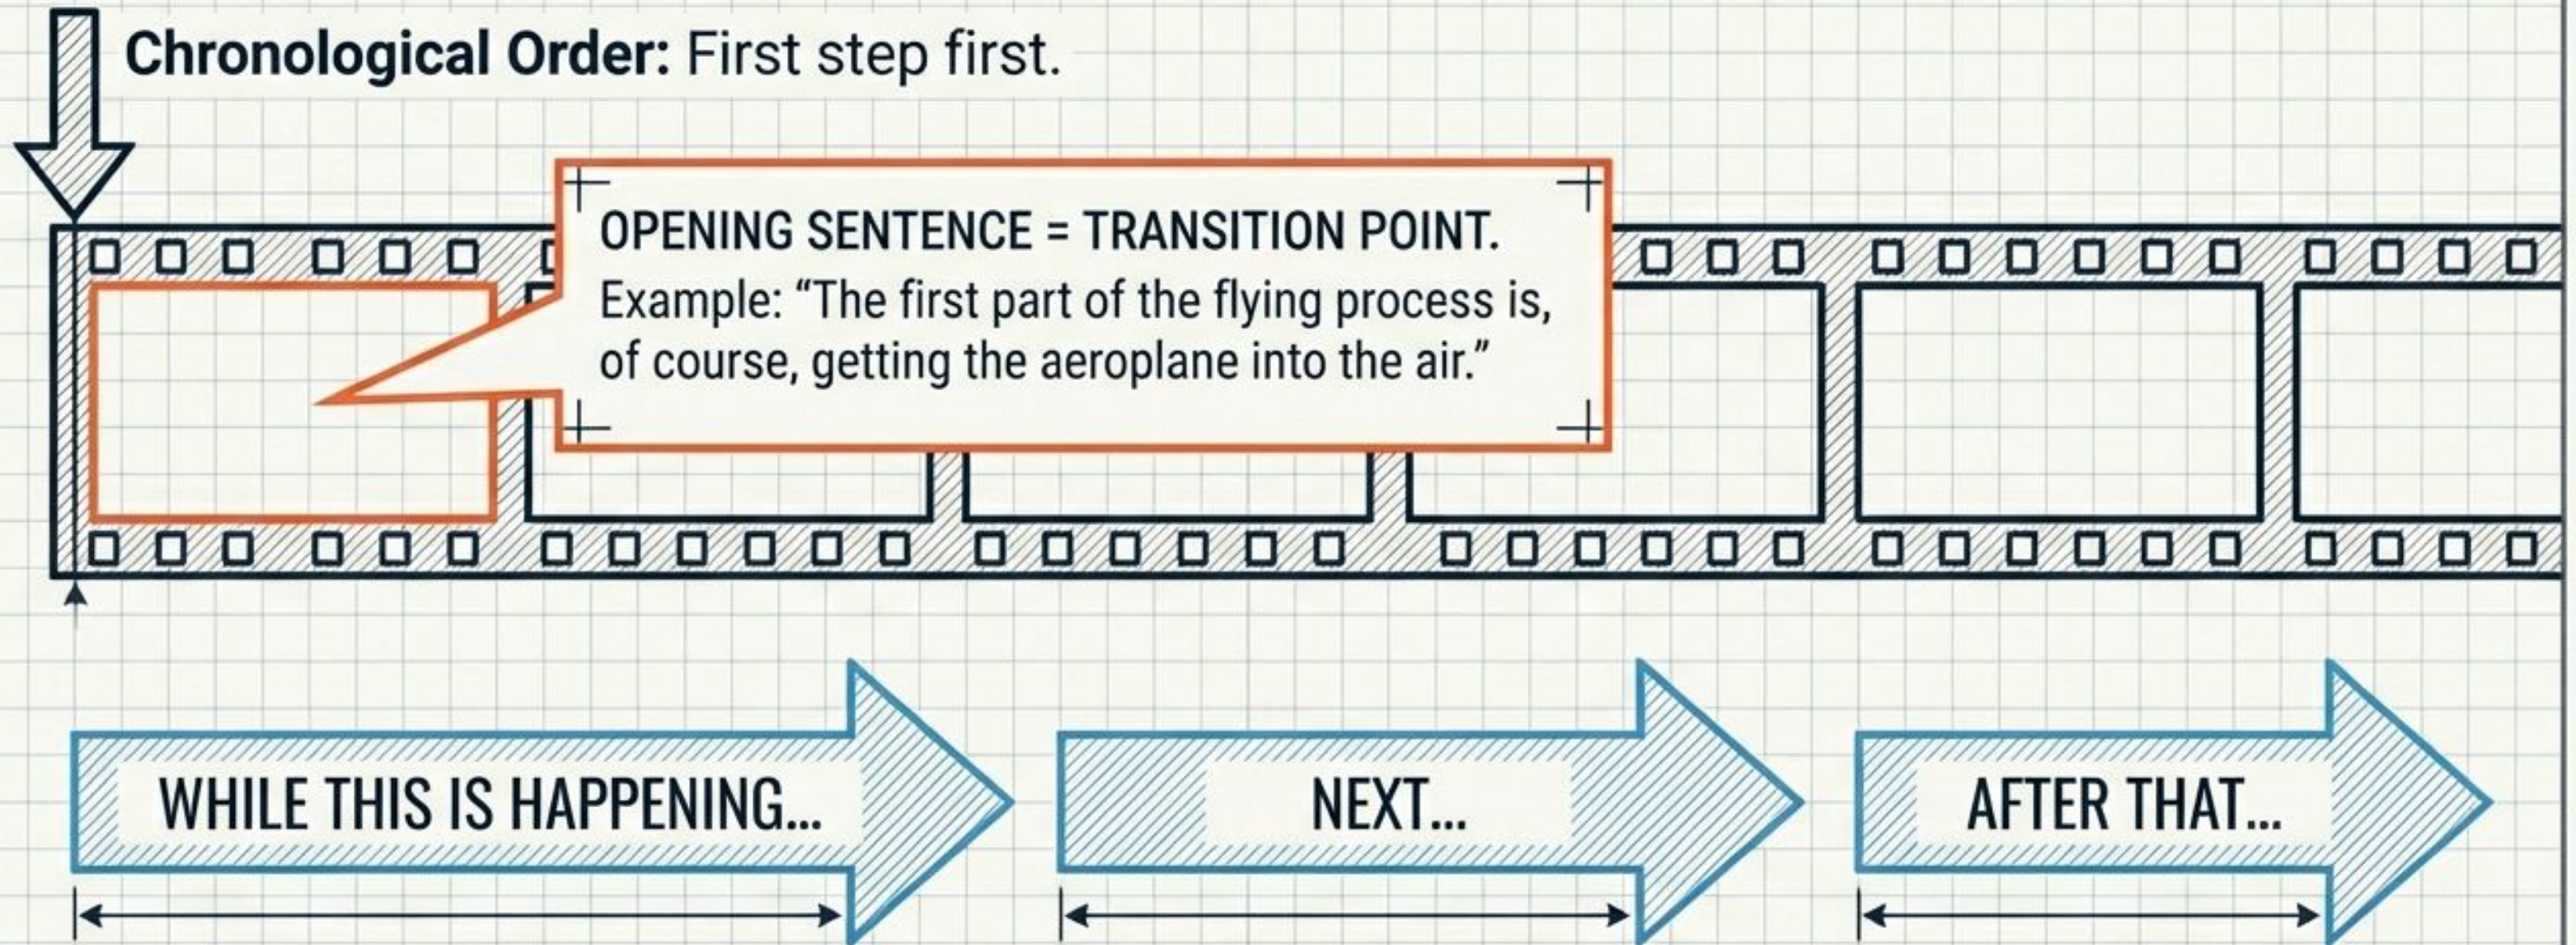

Sort steps into logical chronological groups rather than a laundry list.

All steps must be relevant to the specific phase.

THE ENGINE: ACTIVE VOICE

Rule: Put the "Action" in the "Verb".

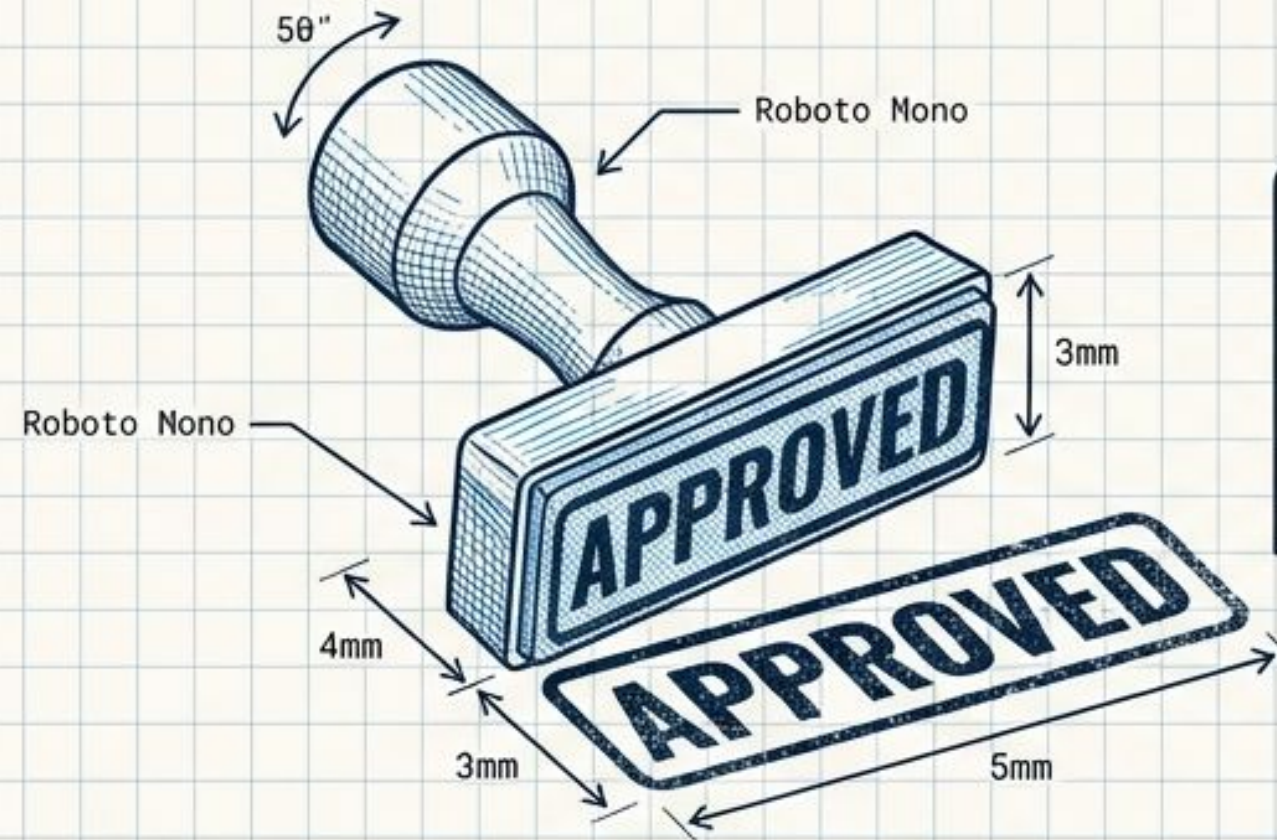

STRATEGY

Look for "by" phrases (e.g., "by the committee") and move the actor to the front.

⚠ NOTE: Use passive voice only when the actor is unknown ("Visitors are not allowed").

THE INSPECTION: CONCLUSION

GOAL:
Summary + Enlightenment.

THE TRAP:
Do not just repeat the steps.

REDUNDANCY LOOP

THE FIX: Offer a new perspective or takeaway.

THESIS:

Flying is a routine
of takeoff, cruise, and landing.

CONCLUSION:

Understanding the process of flying a jetliner can make flying a much more relaxed experience.

UNDERSTANDING = RELAXATION

PROCESS ANALYSIS: A SUMMARY

A clear process analysis allows the reader to see the world through the mechanism of how it works.
